STUDY MIXED MEDIA PRINTMAKING IN CHACALA, MEXICO

February 4-11 2023 with Miguel Perez and Larry Calkins

Join us for a week long mixed media printmaking intensive in Chacala, Mexico (1.5 hours north of Puerto Vallarta) where the jungle meets the ocean. Work alongside Maestro Miguel Perez at his studio Grafica Chacala: (Facebook Grafica Chacala) and our own Larry Calkins: (www.calkinsart.com) for 5 days to create works that combine drawing, painting, printmaking and journaling. Be inspired by the petroglyphs at Alta Vista. Swim in the warm waters of the Pacific.

Tuition includes lodging for seven nights (Saturday 2/4/2023 to Saturday 2/11/2023) giving students a day to explore Chacala before the workshop begins.

The Location:

This region was originally home to the largely unstudied (Tecoxquin) native culture dating from approximately 2000 BC to 2300 BCE. It contains 56 petroglyphs whose antiquity cannot be accurately determined. Aside from its cultural and archeological importance, the site remains an important religious center for the Wixratica people who leave offerings and perform ceremonies here.
